Public service is a noble endeavor. I have been privileged to serve the people of Manoa, Moiliili and Punahou ("District 24") in the State House of Representatives and have learned much from the community during my service.

My twenty years of working in the private sector as a partner in a major Hawaii law firm provide me with a solid understanding of the challenges facing businesses and a balanced perspective when considering critical issues. My work for Senator Inouye in Washington, my clerkship for Hawaii Supreme Court Chief Justice William Richardson, and my work as an economist abroad have given me a broader understanding of how the legislative process can be best used to improve the lives of our residents. Serving as your Representative has sharpened those experiences.

I was born in Waipahu and raised in Hilo, and spent summers working on a sugar plantation. These experiences have instilled in me the core values of respecting hard work and honoring family and community. These values are prevalent in Manoa and many other communities in our state, and are of primary importance in guiding my decisions.

I have loved my legislative experience. I offer a unique and broad perspective and am dedicated toward maintaining the values that we hold dear and toward improving our lives in our community. Thus, I humbly ask for your vote to continue as your Representative from District 24. Thank you for your continued support in this our joint effort.
